

A Thank You Note from Nancy

I hope that each of you who purchase my designs find this little note tucked away in here. I wish I could shake your hand and tell you face to face "Thank you. I appreciate your support with the purchase of this design. I truly wish to make machine embroidery a pleasant experience for you so if you see anything I could do to improve your use regarding this design, please let me know." My creative brain probably thinks differently than your creative brain so I am open to kind words as well as constructive criticism.

You can reach me on my website at www.embroideryit.com.

I would also like to give a friendly reminder to you that my designs are copyrighted and I've worked very hard to create them. I ask that you do not sell, trade, reproduce, share or take credit for the design file. Please refer anyone wanting this design back here.

You may sell my finished {sewn out} designs for profit. There is no limit as to how many you can sew and sell unless you are creating and selling in bulk. By that I mean to stores. Create and sell all you like at craft shows and on Etsy and other craft venues.

If possible, a link back to Embroidery It is very much appreciated.

I want to let you know these designs are NOT auto digitized. I work very hard to ensure that they stitch out properly and I fully test each one. I want you to receive the best quality design. That said, if you should resize, reformat or alter the design in any way, I cannot guarantee the results.

I think that is pretty much all I want to say to you except to once again Thank you!!!

Embroidery Blessings,

Nancy

be creative daily and live life beautifully

One more thing, if you happen to take a photo of what you created using my design, I'd love to see it as I'm compiling a gallery of designs. Thank you!
